

Applicants for undergraduate study programmes submit:

1. A proof of general recognition or validity of a foreign secondary education certificate in the Czech Republic - nostrification, or
2. Certificate of European Baccalaureate Award + proof of the content and scope of education (does not apply to International Baccalaureate, or
3. A proof of a completed foreign secondary education from one of the 4 countries where the Czech Republic has made an agreement of education level equivalence (Slovakia, Poland, Hungary, Slovenia), or
4. Applicants may apply for the recognition of secondary education directly at the faculty for which they are applying by submitting a document attesting a foreign secondary education obtained by completing a secondary education program qualifying the applicant to study in an undergraduate study programme, or in a master's degree program which does not follow a bachelor's study programme.

Note: All documents must be delivered to the faculty in a printed form, either as an original or a certified copy hereof. Documents not issued in the Czech or Slovak or English language must be officially translated into the Czech or English language. In the event that an officially certified translation is made by a translator other than a Czech court interpreter, the translation sheets must be attached to certified copies of the documents to which they relate in such a way as to prevent additional exchange or exchange of sheets containing the translation. Translations attached to plain copies of documents will not be accepted.

Applicants for a follow-up and doctoral study program

1. A proof of general recognition or validity of a foreign university education certificate in the Czech Republic - nostrification, or
2. Certificate of university education in a foreign country in one of the countries where the Czech Republic has made an agreement of education level equivalence (Slovakia, Poland, Hungary, Slovenia – except of Bachelor's diploma), or
3. Applicants may apply for recognition of university education directly at the faculty for which they are applying by submitting a document attesting a foreign university education obtained by completing a university study programme education at a foreign university operating under the legislation of the foreign state.

Note: All documents must be delivered to the faculty in a printed form, either as an original or a certified copy hereof. Documents not issued in the Czech or Slovak or English language must be officially translated into the Czech or English language. In the event that an officially certified translation is made by a translator other than a Czech court interpreter, the translation sheets must be attached to certified copies of the documents to which they relate in such a way as to prevent additional exchange or exchange of sheets containing the translation. Translations attached to plain copies of documents will not be accepted.

If the faculty concludes that the required facts have not been convincingly documented, or has doubts about the sufficient level, scope or content of the applicant's previous foreign education, supported by a foreign document, it reserves the right to request additional documents proving the applicant's high school or university education.